Kozhnosys has been featured in Hindustan Times for their groundbreaking innovation, CanScan!

Founded by Jilma Peruvangat and Suman Mohanda, Kozhnosys is revolutionizing breast cancer detection through CanScan, a non-invasive diagnostic device leveraging breath analysis. This pioneering solution addresses a critical gap in detecting breast cancer among women under 45, where mammography isn't typically recommended.

Jilma's journey, inspired by the unique abilities of dogs to detect diseases through smell, has now gained national recognition, shining a spotlight on their impactful innovation.
